GENERAL SELECTIONS.

From the Globe.

SABBATH SCHOOLS IN LOWELL.

A writer in the Lowell Courier makes the following statement:

There are now in the city fourteen regularly organized religious societies, beside one or two others quite recently established. Ten of these societies constitute a Sabbath School Union. The third annual report was made on the 4th ult. and it has been published within a few days. I derive from it the following facts: The number of scholars connected with the ten schools, at the time of making the report, was 4936, and the number of teachers was 433, making an aggregate of 5369. The number who joined the schools during the year, was 3770, the number who left was 3129. About three quarters of the scholars are females. A large proportion of the latter are over 15 years of age, and consist of girls employed in the mills. More than five hundred of these scholars have, during the last year, become personally interested in practical piety, and more than six hundred have joined themselves to the several churches. Now, let it be borne in mind, that there are four or five and a half day schools in the city, and large and flourishing state

Convent of St. Bernard is concerned, will doubtless be effectual.—Toronto Patriot.

A Word for the Dumb Creation.—If you keep dogs, let them have free access to water, and if practicable, take them out occasionally into the fields, and let them have an opportunity of swimming whenever you have the chance. If you keep birds, do not, as is too commonly practised, expose them in their cages to a hot sun; it is a cruel and a fatal mistake. If you do expose them out of doors, cover the tops of their cages with a piece of carpet, or, which is better, a green sod or abundance of leaves. Those who have the care of horses should be especially attentive, during sultry weather, to give them water or to moisten their mouths. We have often been shocked to see some of the laboring horses, in sultry and dusty weather, foaming at the mouth, and ready to drop under the intolerable torments of thirst.

UTICA AND SYRACUSE RAILROAD.—The travel upon this road equals the utmost expectations of its friends and projectors; and the receipts so far, exceed the estimates of the company. From the opening of the road on the 3d inst. to the 27th, 24 days, the average receipts have been upwards of $800 per day; and the aggregate for the 24 days, $19,341 97—an income of about $24,000 for the month. That this road will be one of the most profitable in the Union, as it is certainly one of the most useful and well managed, we do not doubt. It is under the direction of very competent officers and an efficient company.

A recent London publication makes the following classifications of the vicious population of that city—600,000 Sabbath breakers—100,000 who live by gambling—30,000 who live by fraud—20,000 who live by begging—23,000 annually taken up drunk 100,000 systematically depraved—amounting to upwards of 783,000 persons, more than three times the population of the city and county of Philadelphia. If this statement be true it is a lamentable state of affairs indeed!

EDUCATING A WIFE

Perry, the proprietor of the Morning Chronicle, has now an income of 10,000 per annum. Born in the north of Scotland, and having received a good classical education, at the age of twenty he walked to London to seek his fortune. He had left, on his arrival, two and sixpence. For some time he nearly starved.

At length he got employment and small wages from the editor of the Morning Chronicle, and subsequently he became principal editor, and then a partner, and finally sole proprietor. At the age of forty he was wealthy. Happening to make a journey into the country, he saw in a milliner's shop a girl with whose beauty and manner he was greatly smitten. He begged leave to repeat his visit: at the second interview he told her he would marry her, but added, I am a man of fortune, and wish to live hospitably, and to make my friends happy at home. I am not accustomed to society, and must have a wife who can do the honors of my house with grace, and dignity, and fashion. Now you have seen nothing of the world, and know even less of these matters than I do; but you have talents, and would presently become a lady, if you were under proper instruction. Then, if you will go to Paris, and spend two years there to perfect yourself, I will furnish the means, and marry you on your return. The lady, who was seventeen, was not long balancing on so hard a condition. She went to Paris, passed two years there under every advantage which money could procure, returned an accomplished lady, and all that Perry could wish. They married, and have six lovely children. She has been the pride of his heart, the ornament of his house, and the admiration of his friends. I know an Irishman who did something of the same kind, but I doubt whether there be any thing similar in the history of an Englishman.—Private Journal of Aaron Burr.
